

TASKCRACKER

End User License Agreement

The License Agreement concerning the TaskCracker software (hereinafter referred to as the Software).

1. The Software is a property of TaskCracker Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Manufacturer) and is protected by the copyright and the international copyright together with other legal regulations protecting the intellectual property. The Software is not subject to sale but to licensing only.
2. This license is a legally binding agreement between the User and Manufacturer on using the Software. By installing the Software, the User declares to be bound by the provisions hereof. If the User does not accept the terms of this agreement, he shall not be authorized to install and use the Software.
3. If the User uses the full version of the Software, he is obliged to buy a license. One license can be used to run TaskCracker on multiple computers that are being used by the User.
4. The User shall have a right to use a trial version of the Software on any number of computers free of charge. The trial is fully functional, but its use is restricted to 30 days.
5. User may not reverse engineer, decompile or disassemble the Software.
6. The Software is licensed as the whole and User may not substitute, divide or change any components.
7. User may not lend, rent or lease the Software or to transfer the Software license to any third parties.
8. The User shall not remove any copyright notes received together with the Software.
9. The Manufacturer reserves all rights to publish, duplicate, process and modify the Software.
10. The Manufacturer of the Software shall not be held liable for any errors as might occur during the software operation together with supplied data. Further, the Manufacturer shall not be held liable for a lack of compatibility of the Software with other IT systems used by the User or for a lack of functionality meeting the expectations or objectives defined by the User.
11. The Manufacturer shall not be held liable for any damage as might occur as a result of using the software (without limitation and including damage caused as a result of lost prizes, interruptions in the system operation, lost data and information as well as other financial losses) also if the User advised the Manufacturer of a possibility of such damage. Any liability of the Manufacturer shall be restricted to the amount paid by the User for the Software.
12. Software can be sending anonymous usage statistics in case User agreed to this during the installation process.
13. Software can be notifying Users about new Software versions available.

14. Provisions of the Civil Code shall apply to any matters not governed by this agreement.

15. If any provisions of this agreement should be deemed unenforceable or invalid, the other provisions of this agreement shall remain effective.

16. Microsoft, Windows, Outlook are reserved trademarks of Microsoft Corporation. The other company and product names occurring in this Software may be trademarks and/or service marks of their respective owners.
